Susan,

I just heard back from Claire, you are able to use the photo you found on her site.

Best,
Monica

Hi Claire!

I hope you are well and having a delightful start to spring!

I wanted to reach out about the possibility including a photo of you in a yoga pose that Susan (our website designer) found on your personal website on our Live It Training website as part of your bio. I have attached the photo here, please let us know if we have your permission to include this photo. Susan mentioned that we would need written authorization from you to use the selected photo. If not this photo, do you have an alternate photo of you in a yoga position that we could include?

Thank you!!

Best,
Monica
